

ASD Strategies in Action is an online video-based learning solution that provides practical information, real-life examples, and skills for those who care for and support persons with autism spectrum disorder from early childhood through young adulthood.

The following packet provides an overview of our comprehensive coursework in evidence-based autism strategies including our free introductory course, Many Faces of Autism. The Toddler and Preschool Age, School Age, and Transition Age courses are organized by age and strategy.

Parents, grandparents, siblings, family members, friends, neighbors, teachers, bus drivers, job coaches. If you live with, love, or support someone on the autism spectrum, this training is for you.

Autism training online, anytime, anywhere.
